

SOMEONE KNOCK? Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cyrnek thought the house was coming down and it almost did. Mr. Cyrnek has a startled look on his face and who wouldn't if he found an automobile on his doorstep with the front end protruding into a bedroom. The impact was so great that every wall in the house

Wrecks House --

Car Comes to Rest in Bedroom

A motorist, who apparently fell asleep while zooming along at excessive speed, crashed into the five room brick home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cyrnek at 14728 West av. Orland Park, last Thursday night and practically wrecked it.

The driver, Alfred Kubilis, of 6319 S. Kildaire ave., Chicago, escaped injury but was arrested by Orland Park police on a charge of disorderly conduct. He was taken to the Bedford Park police station by Acting Chief Eugene Yunker and later was released on bond. According to information obtained by Yunker, the motorist is also facing charges growing out of two previous crashes.

The accident at Orland Park occurred about 10:30 o'clock. The Cyrneks two children, Joseph, Jr., 14, and Christine, 11, were asleep. Mrs. Cyrnek, Ann, had retired only a few minutes earlier and was just dropping off to sleep, when the crash came. Mr. Cyrnek was taking a bath and the terrific jar made the tub shake.

Mrs. Cyrnek opened her eyes to see an automobile head light shining thru a great hole in the bedroom wall. A heavy dresser had been hurled across the room and against the bed, sending that piece of furniture sliding.

"Before I saw what had happened," Mrs. Cyrnek said, "I first thought of an earthquake then a tornado. I thought the house was coming down."

The house almost did come down. The impact of the speeding car was so great that every exterior wall in the brick home, is marked with cracks and probably will have to be replaced.

Mr. Cyrnek expects to have an estimate on the cost of repairing the damage this week-end. It is expected that it will run into thousands of dollars.

Cyrnek too thought the house was coming down when he heard the crash. Then he heard his wife scream and he went to the bedroom to find that the sliding furniture had jammed the door. He got the door open and then went to the front door. It would open only partly because an automobile was sitting on the step with the front end rammed thru the bedroom wall.

Kubilis had climbed out by then and according to police was walking about the scene.

He had been driving south on West ave. and veered off on the west side of the street. The speeding car obliterated a sign stating that the speed limit there was 35 miles an hour and is reported to have just missed three young pedestrians before it plunged across two front yards and into the wall of the Cyrnek home. The home is set back 60 feet west of the street.

Mr. Cyrnek is a millwright. The home was built three years ago.

Sandburg High School Plans Expansion

Anticipating the demands that population growth will impose on its present facilities, the Carl Sandburg high school board is taking action to meet the problem thru expanding the plant to accommodate 2,000 students.

A special bond issue election is to be held in the district Dec. 6 to carry out the program. The total issue to be voted upon is $1,035,000 which is to be divided as follows:

New addition $841,000
New school site, addl. equipment, development 175,000
Completion of 1957-58

projects 19,000

These figures are based on estimates prepared by the school's architects.

The present school plant will accommodate 1,500 students and Supt. W. O. Fisher said this week that when the 1959-60 term begins next September it is expected that more than 1,500 will be enrolled. The present enrollment is approximately 1,200.

By the following year the number will be augmented still further. The first wave of students reflecting the high post-war birth rate will reach Carl Sandburg high in 1960.

The Sandburg district has approximately 40 acres in its present site and about the same amount of land in its northern site, on 11th st. The board now proposes to purchase a south campus site in Orland township. This site, plus additional equipment and development of the present site are expected to cost about $175,000.

Eventually the district will have three schools, each with a capacity of 2,000 students.

The proposed bond issue will be sold thru competitive bidding, in installments, as the money is needed. The issue is to be retired in 20 years.

Important to every taxpayer is an answer to the question, "What will it cost me?" Altho the district has issued $1,075,000 in bonds from 1953-58, the tax rate to cover these bonds and interest has increased only two cents. The following table shows the rapid increase in the assessed valuation of the district, bonds sold and the tax rate necessary to pay principal and interest:

Year	Val.	Sold	Rates*
1953	$23,041,000	$900,000	$0.28
1954	25,552,000	None	.27
1955	32,486,000	None	.21
1956	37,214,000	750,000	.31
1957	43,580,000	275,000	.33
1958 est.	50,000,000	50,000	.30

*Cents per $100 of assessed valuation to retire principal and pay interest on bonds.

The above figures indicate that altho costs of school operation have risen and expansion projects have been numerous, the resulting rise in taxes has not been appreciable.

Next week the final plans for additional construction will be outlined.

Burglars Get $175 from Food Mart at Mokena

Burglars, believed to have been the same ones that broke into a grocery store at Wilmington Thursday night, hit The Shopping Bag, a food market on Wolf road, Mokena, between 12:30 and 1 o'clock Saturday morning. The thieves made off with approximately $175 in one and five dollar bills but did not bother to take any of the silver left in cash register drawers. The burglar at the Hickory Creek market at Wilmington netted the thieves about $1,000.

That the same crew was involved is indicated by the mode of entry, according to investigators. Both stores have solid glass front doors. The glass was not broken at either place but the burglars have a special tool with which they can get between doors and force the lock.

Ralph Thoresen, manager of The Shopping Bag left the store at 12:30 Saturday morning. He came by half an hour later to check the store before going home and found one of the doors standing ajar. He called police and investigated. The burglars had jammed the door leading into the office where they found the cash drawers, made up with change to start Saturday's business.

They made their exit thru a rear door but had to break two strong locks and bend a steel bar to do it.

That the thieves were bold ones is evidenced by the fact that there were a number of cars parked at the VFW hall next door and also cars parked across the street at a tavern, with the likelihood that the owners would be coming out anytime.

This was the sixth burglary at The Shopping Bag since it was opened some three years ago.

Band Boosters of Mokena Push Sale of Dance Tickets

The Mokena Band Boosters are making a final drive this week to sell tickets for the dance to be given in the Carpenter Street school gymnasium Saturday night. Tickets also will be available at the door.

Proceeds from the dance will be used in the purchase of uniforms for band members. The Teen Tones will provide the dance music and autographed records will be sold at the dance.

George D. Doig, Former New Lenox Resident, Dies

George D. Doig, 73, a former New Lenox resident, died Monday in his home at La Mesa, Calif., following a lingering illness. He was born in New Lenox, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Doig and lived in Joliet for 60 years. He and his wife, Gertrude, moved to California eleven years ago. He was employed as a salesman and retired nine years ago.

Surviving beside his wife is a sister, Mrs. Arthur Papke of Western Springs.

Mokena Department to Seek Public's Aid in Development of Project

The Mokena Community Volunteer fire department has purchased a site for a new fire station and has preliminary drawings for the engine house.

Announcement of the plans have been made by the president, Eric Book, who also has provided the preliminary sketch of the proposed building.

The site, purchased from Charles Kazlumpik, is located on Front st., just east of Midland ave. It has 110 feet frontage and extends south to the Rock Island right-of-way.

The building the department plans to construct will be 60 feet long and 38 feet deep. It is to be of concrete block construction with a brick front. The roof will be of the low pitch gable type so it will blend in with the neighborhood. The building will be located on the site so that an addition can be erected when needed.

Orland Board Discusses Buses And Subdivision

The question of bus transportation for Orland Park and neighboring communities which would give them access to the Chicago loop several times daily, is still to be settled by the Illinois commerce commission.

Raymond Pieper, village attorney for Orland Park, attended a hearing before the ICC last week. He reported to the village board at its meeting Monday night that the case was continued again, this time to Nov. 25.

The Suburban Transit company, which proposes to furnish transportation to Orland Park, has amended its original petition and agrees not to pick up passengers north of 87th street enroute to Chicago and in going south will pick up passengers in the city but not for discharge north of 87th street. The company is asking for a permanent certificate now, instead of a temporary permit.

Except for the Wabash railroad which runs a train to Chicago in the morning and one back in the afternoon, with stops at Orland Park, that community and its neighbors to the north have no public means of travel to and from the city.

The Orland Park board, which has been discussing terms of a proposed contract relative to the opening of the Fernway housing development, discussed some of the points Monday night but no definite action was taken. The Fern-

Flood Relief At New Lenox Has Set-Back

Hopes of New Lenox residents in the area of Second and Pine for a solution of their drainage problems have suffered another set-back.

The village was set to proceed with a plan that called for installation of a tile line to carry off the surface water and thus eliminate flooding of septic tanks, accounts in part for the presence of raw sewage in ditches along the street.

Others claim that the flooding is due to the fact that one of the residents has plugged up a drain and that raw sewage comes partly from flooding and partly because of inadequate septic systems.

The village board had earmarked $3,500 for a tile line to drain the area of surface water and had a survey made to determine the route and grade of the proposed line. This line would run along the rear of private property and the village sought easements for the purpose. Most of the property involved is owned by Eugene Carter.

Ronald Vondrasek, a member of the New Lenox village board and named by Mayor Lloyd Berlin to get in touch with the property owners and obtain their signatures to easements for the proposed drain. At last week's meeting of the board Vondrasek reported that he talked with Mr. Carter and that the latter refused to (Continued to page 3)

Accidents in Area Take 5 Lives

Five persons were killed and six injured in three different automobile accidents in the Orland-Tinley area since last week-end.

A soldier, Pfc. Ben Kelley, 18, of Sanford, Fla., who was stationed at the NIKE base at Orland Park, was killed and three companions injured Sunday night when their car struck a utility pole at 152nd and Oak Park ave., Bremen township.

The other three soldiers were taken to St. Francis hospital at Blue Island. They are Pfc. Vaughn Little, 19; Anthony Monteiro, 23, and Steven Bubala, 21. Monteiro has been released from the hospital.

According to police Kelley was the driver and is alleged to have lost control of the car as it was rounding a curve. The accident occurred shortly before midnight.

Memorial services for Kelley were held at the base yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with the battery drawn up in formation. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Kelley of Sanford, Fla.

The body will be sent to Florida, for burial, accompanied by Sgt. 1st Class Chester White as the escort.

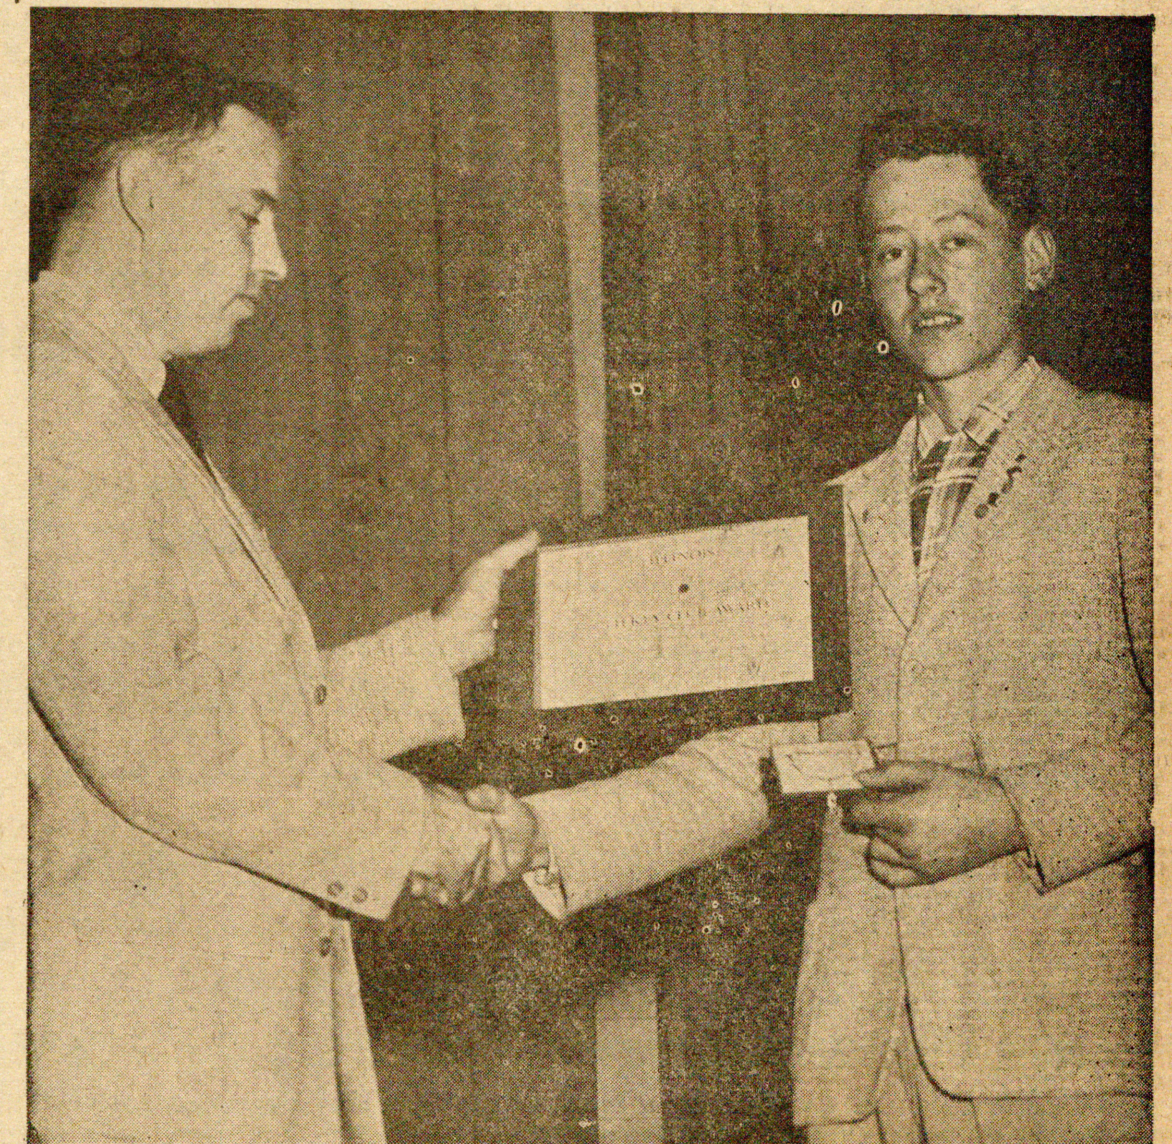

On Monday night a Chicago couple was killed and their 14-year-old daughter injured when their car was hit at 135th and Ridgeland, Bremen township. The dead are, Clarence Thiry, 50, and his wife, Gunhilt, 51. They lived at 500 W. 129th pl. They were thrown thru the windshield and crushed under their rolling car. The daughter, Marsha, was taken to St. Francis hospital.

State Troopers Jack Keilman and Arthur Schulis

said the Thiry car was traveling east on 135th, a thru st., and that it was struck by a car southward bound on Ridgeland. The car on Ridgeland failed to halt for the stop sign at 135th. The driver, Murel Leaf, 35, of Marley told police his brakes failed. He was charged with failure to halt for a stop sign.

Last Friday night there was a two-car collision at 131st and the Southwest highway in Orland township which claimed two lives. Mrs. Mary H. Ello, 41, Waukegan, was instantly killed, when the car in which she was a passenger, driven by a cousin, Leonard B. Meade, Aurora, is alleged to have run a stop sign and struck an auto driven by Anthony Millen, 44, of 7509 S. Winchester. Millen died later at St. Francis hospital. Millen

Holy Name Men Hear Talk on Law Enforcement

An interesting talk on law enforcement in Cook County was heard by members of the Holy Name Society of St. George Parish, Tinley Park, at the November meeting. The speaker was David Bradshaw, a friend of Emanuel Cannonito, member and an attorney.

How law enforcing agencies in the county overlap each other, causing chaos, was explained. As an example, Bradshaw cited the Grimes case, on which he worked.

Father Thomas O'Connell praised the outstanding editorial in the Tinley Park Times on Pope Plus XII and the space given on the newly elected Pope John XXIII.

He also expressed pleasure at the cooperation received from the newspaper in publishing the various articles submitted on church news.

St. George Parish will hold its annual turkey plate dinner with all the trimmings on Sunday, Nov. 23, at 3 pm. All are invited to attend and participate in the games which will be played. Turkeys will be awarded.

The Novena to Our Lady of Sorrows is being held each Friday at 7:30 pm. The prayers offered are for peace to the world and for the conversion of Russia. At each Novena service the church is filled. Parish priests urge all who can to participate in these prayers to Our Lady who is the Queen of Peace.

MOKENA DEPARTMENT—overhead doors in the front of the building with space for at least four pieces of equipment. A meeting room and a small office will be included in the design.

Cost of the building will be approximately $18,000, it was believed.

To raise money for the project the department is planning a full scale canvass of the entire territory. It was pointed out that this is the only means the department has for raising the necessary funds. The department is strictly a volunteer outfit and derives no revenue from taxes. It is wholly dependent on donations and money earned thru various projects sponsored by the firemen.

Date for the canvass has not been set. Those in charge are hopeful that the program will receive the support of the entire community and that everyone will contribute or pledge to the best of his ability.

"We want to make sure," a spokesman said, "that when the siren blows the men will have enough equipment ready and available to fight the fire. Who knows, the siren might be blowing for your home."

The department now uses the village hall for a station house but it is not large enough. It has room but for two of the three pieces of equipment, the pumper, Truck No. 2, and the old 1929, Truck No. 1. These are the only two pieces of equipment that will fit in the building. The new tanker, Truck No. 3, must be parked outside, or at best in an unheated garage.

This makes it bad, it was pointed out, because now that winter is practically here the tank must be drained when not in use and filled at the time it is needed. The time taken to fill the tank could be quite critical during a fire, it was explained.

Preliminary plans for the station have been approved by the building committee and will be up for approval by the board of directors at their next meeting. Members of the building committee are, Carroll Roberts, chairman; Fred Clarke and Russell Lauffer.

ORLAND BOARD—(Continued from page 1) way development will extend west from LaGrange road along 151st st. for several blocks. It will provide space for approximately 500 homes.

The developers are from Cleveland. At Monday's meeting their attorney stated that they were prepared to furnish a water system that eventually would be hooked up with that of the village. The developers propose to drill a 10-inch well, build a pumping station, a ground tank of steel that will store 300,000 gallons of water, and furnish three pumps, one of 250-gallons a minute capacity, one 500 and the other a thousand. The storage tank would rise above the ground 32 feet, according to the engineers.

The developers claim that the provision in the ordinance calling for cement sidewalks five feet wide and five inches thick along all streets will be a hardship and asked for a modification.

They claim that most communities require walks only on perimeter streets. While no action has been taken yet by the board on this report, some of the members expressed themselves as opposed to any change, other than perhaps allowing a reduction in width of sidewalks, from five feet

Lincoln-Way PTG Finds "Angel" Role Profitable

The Parent-Teacher Group of Lincoln-Way high school, which underwrote the production of "Ghost Train," recently staged at the school by the Lincoln-Way Community Players, has not only been repaid for the actual cash outlay but has also received a dividend.

Lewis Loebe, of New Lenox, president of the drama group, handed over a check for $200 to the PTG in payment of the money advanced by that organization. He also tendered another check, for $150.57 which represented half of the net profits for the venture.

Mr. Loebe also announced that the Players had given more than $200 worth of stage scenery to the school. The Players will give their next show in April.

Charles Hunter, student member of the Footlights, the school's dramatic club, announced plays for tomorrow night and Saturday, Nov. 14 and 15 in the school auditorium. The freshmen group will present, "Comin' Around the Mountain"; the sophomores, "Did You Say Mink?" and the junior-senior group, "Romany Chi."

Curtain time is 8 o'clock.

FLOOD RELIEF—(Continued from page 1) sign an easement, declaring that he was willing for the village to run a tile line along the rear of his lot line but he felt that his word was sufficient and that signing an easement was unnecessary.

Members of the village board, however, expressed themselves as wanting an easement. Inasmuch as the project cannot be carried out unless Carter's land is used, Vondrasek pointed out that it was stymied.

A letter was written to the VFW post at New Lenox thanking the organization for furnishing 10 volunteers for police duty at Halloween. Pranksters were kept in hand.

Village Clerk Robert McCleary was instructed to write the Illinois Municipal League to ascertain if the village can get a refund of the gasoline tax it pays to operate village owned vehicles.

Streets without curb and gutter and not bordered by sidewalks are a constant source of trouble and complaint, some board members pointed out.

The Rev. Adolph Lach, pastor of Christ Lutheran church at Orland, reported to the board on the civil defense meeting he attended at Battle Creek, Mich., last month. He was sent to the meeting by the village board. It was a school of instruction in defense work, particularly as to the part to be played by pastors and social workers.

Sandburg Drama Club to Present 'Whodunit' Play

"The Cat and the Canary," a chiller in three acts, by John Willard, will be presented at Carl Sandburg high school on Friday and Saturday nights, Nov. 14 and 15 at 8 p.m. by the Dramatics club.

Under the direction of Mrs. Robert Renie the cast of ten will portray the difficulties encountered by heirs to an estate as the clock strikes midnight. The presentation promises to be a highlight of the fall activities prior to the opening of the basketball and wrestling seasons.

Silver Cross --

Hold Open House for New Wing

An open house will be held by Silver Cross hospital, Joliet, next Sunday afternoon, Nov. 16, from 2 to 5 o'clock, that the public may view the new diagnostic and treatment wing which provides modernized and enlarged quarters for the admitting, emergency, laboratory and X-ray departments, the latter including an isotope laboratory and cobalt theratron.

Atomic research led to the use of radioactive materials in medicine and in order to add such services to the X-ray department the hospital had to meet construction and personnel specifications of the Atomic Energy Commission, dictated for the protection of patients and technicians. This feature of the new department is of interest to science students as well as those who are considering entering some field of hospital service.

Opening of the main lobby of the hospital the new wing was built out over a kitchen area which was extended to provide greatly enlarged autopsy and stock rooms, an animal laboratory and the huge machinery operating two air conditioning units.

Costing $625,000, the diagnostic and treatment wing is the first project in a $2,000,000 modernization program to be completed. Still under construction is a two story addition to the north wing and a one story addition to the west wing which will provide 94 extra beds and is scheduled to be operating this spring.

After three years they bought the house corner Cedar road and route 30 from the William Lynk family and located his blacksmith shop on the rear of the lot on Cedar road. They lived there for 44 years until he retired and moved to Rockford in 1956 where they live in a home near to their only child, Margaret and family.

Handicapped Children

Friends of Trinity school, located on Gougar road and operated for retarded children, have obtained permission from the Mokena village council to conduct a house-to-house solicitation for funds to aid the program.

This is an excellent cause and while the date for the home visitation has not been set it is our hope that when it is held all residents will see fit to contribute as generously as possible.

It is too bad that support of such a school must depend upon the ability of parents to pay and the favor of the public. The constitution of the state of Illinois simply states that every child shall be provided with a good common school education.

There is nothing in the article devoted to education which qualifies the guarantee. There is nothing said about the child's condition, mental or physical, or whether he has a high I.Q. or a low one.

The constitution just says that every child shall be provided with an education.

School boards say they haven't funds to operate special rooms for mentally retarded youngsters; that legally they cannot contribute funds to a private school, such as Trinity, and that while state aid is given for rooms operated for children suffering from physical defects, there is no provision made by the state for the mentally retarded.

Some school boards say that the mentally retarded youngsters can come to regular classes and to this parents should reply — "Thanks for nothing."

In the first place the regular curriculum is not suited for these youngsters and even if it were the parents of these youngsters would hesitate about exposing their offspring to the jibes and pranks of the young savages who make up part of the student body.

The last session of the legislature enacted a law under which a census is being conducted or is about to be conducted to determine the number of handicapped children in the state. This survey is to include all the handicapped youngsters, and those needing special educational services.

It is to be hoped that the general assembly will then proceed to enact legislation to aid a program designed to fit the requirements of such children.

Parents of the mentally retarded children have to bear the cost of hiring teachers and maintaining a school and without aid from their friends and the public in general it would be too great a burden for them to bear.

We spend tax money for a lot of things that cost more and are less needed than a program for the education of all handicapped children.

On Second Thot

by GLENN F. LOGAN

Winter is where you find it. It may be just outside the window — it may be a thousand miles away — it may be a state of mind or, and heaven help you if it is, it may be in your heart.

Winter means many things to many people. In northern climes it means cold and snow and suffering for the poor of purse, but the cost of fuel is burdensome to most, poor or rich, and it seems that once the demand for heat begins there is no end to it.

Winter can mean coasting and skating to some and a sit-by-the-fire period to others. Some contend that the young today are more interested in indoor comfort than outdoor activities, than were the kids of yesterday or the day before yesterday. As far as we know there is no concrete proof of such an assertion.

Living today is so different. There are so many conveniences and comforts now that may be had by pressing a button or using a phone that comparisons are difficult.

Years ago one had to brave the elements to live. There are many persons who still do but most of us—in this country—have it easy. In the early part of the century kids walked to and from places to skate or coast and for many of them it meant a mile or more of travel. And they trudged similar distances to school.

Now they ride in cars or buses—but so would those of the former generations had they the same opportunity.

Winter means sunshine and roses, shortsleeved shirts and bathing trunks for many persons—the regular residents of warm places and those who can afford the time and money to sojourn there while the north is gripped by cold. Sometimes, like last winter for example, the winter vacation places have gray skies and cold, damp days and nights that make the visitors thoroughly miserable.

Such weather has its bright side, however, it makes the rest of us feel so good. Here we are trapped by ice and snow, whipped by zero blasts and filled with envious thots of friends or acquaintances lolling on warm sandy beaches, with blue skies and a bright sun overhead.

Then we learn that the cold has invaded the south; that our friends instead of sunning themselves are huddled in cold rooms, shivering and thinking longingly of the efficient heating plants they have at home.

Now that is when we should express concern and sympathy, tsk, tsk, reprovingly at the weatherman — and mean it. But what happens. Word of the plight of our friends, that they too are beset by cold and shaking with shivers, tempers our own situation. The fact that our friends are cold serves to send a warm glow thru our systems and we feel much, much better.

Winter is a time of frozen radiators . . . frosted windshields . . . snow to shovel . . . dripping noses . . . club meetings . . . bowling . . . dances . . . soups . . . steaming stews . . . cold hands . . . cold feet . . . basketball . . . studying seed catalogs . . . broken water pipes . . . snow to shovel . . . icy pavements . . . setting out food for birds . . . balking furnaces . . . skating . . .

coasting . . . hot chocolate . . . a cheery blue blaze in the fireplace . . . snow to shovel.

And the sounds of winter . . . the eerie, mournful whistle of wind along the eaves, suddenly changing fury as it rattles and tears at doors and windows, seeking a way into the house . . . the rattle of sleet on roofs and glass . . . the creak pop and groan of timbers in old houses when the mercury drops to zero or below. It is then too that the snow — otherwise silent — gives vent to rasping, crunching creaks under the feet of passersby and rolling tires.

And the unescaping, clanging scrape of the ubiquitous snow shovel.

Old Man Winter! May his days be short.

Letters to the Editor

A very special thank you is given to all who helped work at St. Michael's toy sale, and especially the merchants of Palos Heights and Orland for so kindly displaying posters in their windows. I wish also to thank the Orland paper for its wonderful support in helping to make our toy sale so successful.

MRS. LEO SZUFNAROWSKI
ON VILLAGE PLANNING

Nov. 11, 1958.

To the Editor:
In a recent issue of the News Bulletin, it was reported that the board of education of School District No. 159 had contributed $100 toward the cost of the Land Use Map

Now is Time to Mail Christmas Packages for Overseas Delivery

The period up to Nov. 20 has been designated for the mailing of Christmas parcels to members of the Armed Forces Overseas.

Time of mailing:
By surface means: Nov. 1 to Nov. 20.

By air mail: Dec. 1 to Dec. 10
Size and weight limitations are 50 lbs. to certain APO's, 70 lbs. to others: See your local post office for application limitations.

Boxes for overseas must necessarily be of strong construction, well packed with absorbent material, as they travel great distances and are subject to handling and storage pressures. Use good strong paper coverings for your parcels.

authorized by the village boards of Frankfort and Mokena. Such action had been approved by the school board at its Oct. 14, 1958 meeting. Before the check was issued, a resident of Mokena and of the school district asked whether such a contribution were legal. The board on Nov. 7, asked the superintendent of public instruction of the state of Illinois for a legal opinion and has this advice from the assistant superintendent in charge of legal matters: "Even though certain benefits might accrue to the school from the survey which is being made by the two villages, I cannot advise that the Board of Education may legally contribute school funds toward the cost of such a project."

Based on this opinion, the board at its Nov. 11 meeting decided not to contribute to the land use map.

Yours truly,
Board of Education, School District No. 159.

(Editor's Note: It is understood that while no contribution will be made to the fund, the Mokena school board plans to buy a map. The map, it is said, will cost at least $100.)

Tie it well and lastly address it correctly, legibly preferable using a water proof ink or indelible pencil.

Greeting cards may be enclosed in your parcels. Written messages may also be enclosed in parcels if you declare the message and pay 4c for enclosure.

Prepare and mail that package overseas now, postmasters urge, so they will reach destination by Christmas.

Included in this upgrading program: construction and rehabilitation of suburban stations; purchase of 22 new diesel locomotives and 20 new-type suburban coaches; rehabilitation of 155 suburban cars and other improvements.

The Rock Island has spent $7,853,875 in suburban improvements since the war's end, exclusive of the purchase price of the two "Suburbanites".

"This, despite an annual loss of $1,000,000 a year in our suburban operations", Mr. Jenks stated.

Tony Bettenhausen Wins National Auto Racing Crown for 2nd Time

Tony Bettenhausen, Tinley Park's famous son, has won the U.S. Auto Club's national championship for 1953, following a remarkable season.

Tony hasn't won a race all season but he finished close enough in all the events that he has entered, he has point total for the year was enough to give him the title.

This is the first time that the national championship has been won by a driver without winning a race.

The championship was decided Tuesday at Phoenix, Ariz. This was run over a mile dirt track. Eight of the drivers that appeared in the Memorial Day classic at Indianapolis is this year were in the affair, including Tony's nearest competitor.

Tony led for 40 laps and wound up in second place but this was enough for the national championship. This is the second time Bettenhausen has won the championship.

The races in which he appeared were run at Trenton

N. J., Springfield and DuQuoin, Ill., Milwaukee, Longhorn, Pa., Sacramento, Atlanta and Phoenix.

He was sponsored this summer by the Champion spark plug people who have been carrying on a big safety campaign this year. The drivers they sponsor are all big names in the automobile racing world and they have been giving safety talks in high schools.

Tony has been on such a lecture tour in Iowa and is beginning another in Illinois.

Special Education Director To Speak At Tinley Nov. 19

At the Nov. 19 meeting of the Bremen Council for the Handicapped, the speaker will be Lewis Martin, director of special education at the LaGrange High school.

The meeting will be held in room 103 of the Central public school, Tinley Park, and all interested in an educational program for the handicapped are invited to attend.

Mr. Martin, who has established such a program in the western suburbs, will talk on the "Illinois Plan for Exceptional Children".

Invited to attend are school boards from Tinley Park public schools, Kirby school, Markham, Midlothian, Oak Forest, and of Bremen High school. All have expressed interest in such a program.

Better ways to prevent and cure TB are sought in the research laboratory. Your Chicago TB association spent $21,353 for medical research at Chicago universities last year.

MAURICE P. ANGLAND

The elections are over and as predicted by the action of the stock market itself, the results were about as investors expected. The market averages advanced rather than decreased altho the general advance was actually very small. The advance was mostly in the "blue chips". The market headlines again noted a considerable advance in the Dow Jones averages.

The Dow Jones averages are generally taken to mean the "Industrials" which is composed of 30 stocks chosen many years ago as representative of the market as a whole. The immediate past is an excellent example of the accuracy of the Dow Jones averages as against the much more accurate "Standard and Poor" averages as to accuracy in representing action of the market as a whole.

The Standard and Poor averages came into their own with the advent of the electronic computer. These averages include 425 industrials as against 30 in Dow Jones averages. The Standard and Poor averages advanced a very small amount in the few days after the elections as against the comparatively sensational action of the less representative Dow Jones.

It is not surprising that the market advanced as the election insures continuation of governmental spending and the same for many of the populous states where industry is concentrated. This, in turn, means a constant further erosion of purchasing power of the dollar and increasing desirability of well chosen common stocks for investment rather than fixed dollar obligations.

In a speech in Tokyo this week, McChesney Martin, chairman of the Federal Reserve board of governors, said that the action, to stop inflation prior to the recession of 1957 and 1958, should have been taken as regards interest rates, etc. in 1955 when the economy was booming.

This would seem to be expecting miracles from Congress which is elected by popular vote and to become "statesmen" must first be elected by a majority in their particular areas. It must be remembered that 90 per cent of the people are not investors. A goodly number simply will not make the sacrifices necessary to acquire investment funds. Many are investors indirectly thru insurance policies which invest funds received and as the dollar depreciates in purchasing power, policy holders increase the dollar amount of their protection to compensate.

History does not record any but short periods when the inflationary trend has been halted or reversed.

Altho only about 25 per cent of the working force are members of labor organizations, it must be recognized that these labor union leaders have demonstrated in this election, that they have access to large funds which can and will be spent for political objectives. They also have demonstrated that these leaders have the ability or can employ persons who can handle political situations in a professional manner.

The labor contracts with cost-of-living escalator clauses will become general rather than limited to the big unions. These escalator clauses provide for automatic wage advances with depreciation of purchasing power of the dollar.

As a practical matter, these contract provisions insure that each lowering plateau of purchasing power is anchored at that point. An automatic reduction of wages thru increase in purchasing power is most unlikely to be met with anything but violent opposition. Attempts to explain, economically, why the reduction takes place would be futile.

Investors are a practical lot! They recognize a situation and do the best they can on the basis of facts as they are rather than bet on changing human nature.

Plans Appeal in Battle to Ban Trailer Court

(CNS) — The county board last week directed the state's attorney to appeal a decree entered Sept. 5 by Circuit Judge Thomas E. Kluczynski which would permit a trailer park on the west side of Harlem ave. just north of 90th st., Palos township.

"We don't want any more trailer courts," said Commissioner Charles F. Chaplin, chairman of the zoning subcommittee.

The suit was brought by Chicago National Bank as trustee, as owner of 11 acres fronting 208 feet on Harlem, with a depth of 2,293 feet. Directions were asked from the county board by State's Attorney Benjamin Adamowski, whose appeals division has been considering the matter.

One other Palos township rezoning petition and three from Stickney township were referred to the board of zoning appeals for hearing. Drovers Trust and Savings bank, as trustee of one-half acre on the west side of Southwest highway, 389 feet north of 111th st., Palos township, asked a change from Farming to B-1 (Business) zoning.

The Stickney township petitions were:

La Salle National Bank, trustee of 2 1/2 acres on the southeast corner, 83rd and Central ave., from R-4 (residence, 10,000 sq. ft.) to B-1 (business).

Southmoor Bank and Trust company, trustee of 1/2 acre east side of Narragansett, 200 feet north of 87th st., from R-4 to B-1.

Joseph J. Belletiere, 4929 South Lockwood, owner of 1/4 acre on east side of Central ave., 200 feet south of 49th st., from R-4 to B-2 (business, tavern, and amusement).

Withdrawn was a petition from Clarence J. Apgar, 9901 Southwest highway, Oak Lawn, to rezone 1/4 acre on the southeast corner of 87th and Merrimac, Worth township, from R-4 to B-1.

So far as mastitis infections are concerned, research indicates that it does not seem important whether the cow is dried off quickly or slowly. However, the more milk the cow is giving when she is dried off, the greater are the chances for infection.

More Than 10,000 Animals Will Be On Exhibit at International Marking its 59th year as the country's largest livestock show, the International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show will be held at Chicago Nov. 28-Dec. 6 in the International Amphitheatre and a large area of the adjoining Chicago Stock Yards.

The volume of entries, prior to the Nov. 1 closing date for listing exhibits, is such that the management predicts a total entry of more than 10,000 animals representing 29 of the meat-yielding breeds of farm animals and a wide variety of horses and ponies, ranging in size from the diminutive Shetland to the ton-weight Clydesdale featured in the six-horse team exhibitions.

Thirteen Horse Shows are scheduled during the 9-day run of the exposition. Arthur Godfrey of television and radio fame will be the star attraction of each Horse Show riding his spectacularly trained Arabian, "Goldie".

Coming at the close of the calendar year for livestock shows and fairs, the Chicago exposition is the climax event of the year, consisting of a huge assembly of animals most of which have won blue ribbons and championships at State and County Fairs and regional expositions during the preceding months.

Two new breeds of cattle will be admitted to the International competitions this year, the management reports, in the addition to the show's classification of purebred Polled Hereford and Red Polled cattle. Total prize money is in excess of $100,000.

All breeds of beef cattle, sheep and swine are shown in inter-breed contest for the grand champion title of each species.

and the three star animals of the week are the grand champion steer, the grand champion barrow, and the grand champion wether lamb. Adult breeders and feeders, farm boys and girls, and the agricultural colleges exhibit hundreds of prize animals in these competitions.

Most celebrated animal of the week in terms of publicity is the International grand-champion steer, which many times in recent years has been exhibited by a boy or girl who raised the animal as a 4-H club project or by boys enrolled in vocational agricultural schools under the designation F.F.A. standing for Future Farmers of America.

The grand champion steer of last year's exposition was shown by an 18-year-old Indiana 4-H girl, Sue Secondino, of West Terre Haute. Her steer sold at auction for $30 a pound or a total price of $31,050.

FARM NEWS

For Cook County by
assistant farm adviser

At the County 4H Achievement meeting held this week, a number of 4H members received some very significant honors. We, in 4H Club work, are extremely proud of these fine and capable young people. I am sure that they would be the first to recognize that their accomplishments, significant as they were, would not have been possible without guidance and counsel from their parents, 4H leaders, and fellow 4H members.

The local 4H program is the result of a community effort. The young people who have received honors in 4H club work, can do so because of the local club by helping others. I am sure that they would wish me to thank all those who have helped them to be successful. I am also confident that they will share their experiences with younger 4H members so that they too can develop fine cumulative records which are the basis for success in 4H Club work.

Many very high yields of soybeans and corn have been reported from various parts of the county this year. I helped check some corn plots on the Floyd Adair farm near Chicago Heights, that yielded in excess of 100 bushels per acre. A little over 19,000 plants per acre helped achieve this yield. In addition, somewhat over 150 pounds of nitrogen and approximately 100 pounds of phosphorus and plant nutrients to attain this yield.

Many of you had an opportunity to see these plots at a field day held last Saturday.

The dwarf corn plot on the Fred Niemeyer farm looked like it will produce a very respectable yield. I gathered several sample ears from the plot and they would indicate that this corn may have a future in the corn belt. This plot is composed of three composites of a number of varieties, which causes some of the unevenness in size and shape of stalk, which many of you have noticed. I believe we could reasonably expect poor varieties to yield stalks as uniform as those found in present day fields of normal size corn. I believe we will be hearing more about dwarf corn in the near future.

In spite of the cool weather recently, visits to a number of onion fields reveal that the onion maggot still has an excellent appetite. Recent correspondence from Bill Luckmann, Entomologist at the University of Illinois, indicates that next year's control program for this pest will center around Diazinon, which was recently approved for use on the onion crop. Vegetable growers who experienced trouble with onion maggots, should plan to attend the Annual Vegetable Growers' School to be held on Jan. 14. A control program for the important topics to be discussed.

Some of you have reported seeing some rather small onions for this time of year, growing on the C. J. Rietveld farm near South Holland. Your eyes weren't deceiving you. This was a plot established by Dr. Linn, Plant Pathologist, U. of I., to test two of the newer soil fungicides. Some preliminary data was obtained from the trial and more will be said about soil fungicides at the January 14th Vegetable Growers' School.

The results from the drill box survey conducted during oat planting season this spring are finally complete. Those of you who participated, should be receiving some information in the near future.

A few interesting facts from the survey: Nearly half the samples collected were of the Clintland variety. You will recall that Clintland was one of the high yielding rust resistant varieties in our oat variety trial on the Herb Kohl farm this summer. In this survey, half the seed planted was the farmers' own seed. 70% of the samples had been cleaned, only 38% of the seed had been treated, and only slightly over half the samples were tested for germination. Roughly, 10% of the 1,461 samples were certified seed. Another interesting observation was the fact that of the certified seed purchased, seedmen supplied 80% of it, and of the non-certified seed, seedmen sold only 9%. This would suggest that seedmen have found certified seed to be a good commodity to merchandise.

Remarriage No Longer Reason for Ending Social Security Payments

(Editor's Note: This is another in the series on the changes in the Social Security Law. This deals with persons who remarry.)

Ever since the enactment of the original Social Security Law, marriage or remarriage has often been a reason for ending social security payments to dependents or survivors of insured workers.

For example, Mrs. Belle Moore, 64, was widowed 2 years ago. She has been living in the home with her daughter and son-in-law and has been receiving $58.90 a month. Frank Brown, 68, a lifelong neighbor and a widower for three years, has retired and is receiving monthly payments of $108.50 a month. Frank owns his own home—it is a large home and it has been rather lonesome for him living there by himself.

Recently it has occurred to Mrs. Moore and Mr. Brown that it would be both pleasant and sensible for them to marry and spend their remaining years together. Until just a month or so ago, however, their marriage would have meant financial troubles because it would have ended social security payments for Mrs. Moore.

Under that provision of the Social Security Law, benefits paid to the dependents of a worker, to his child, to his widow (or widower), or to an aged dependent parent, stopped when that dependent married.

Changes in the Social Security Law now make it possible for them to go ahead with their marriage plans. A widow receiving widow's benefits can, therefore, marry a person who is receiving old-age insurance payments and immediately qualify for wife's benefits based on his social security account.

Under another change, a dependent's social security benefit payments will not stop if he or she marries another person who is also receiving social security payments as a dependent. Therefore, a widow could marry a person who is receiving dependent parents or dependent widowers payments. Each would continue to receive their monthly payments.

Marriage to a person who is not receiving social security benefits will still end the benefit rights (present and future) of a dependent beneficiary.
